

Danielle Brooks Biography

When it comes to showing service-based superstars how to optimize their finances, no one does it better than Danielle Brooks.

Founder of Pearl Business Consulting, Danielle serves as Virtual CFO for business owners who are crushing it in the front end and want to level up their backend and finances to match.

Thanks to her years of experience as a COO, business management consultant and sales manager, Danielle is an expert at streamlining expenses and maximizing income so her clients have the freedom and flexibility to focus on what they do best. While corporate experiences at the CIA and ExxonMobil showed her the ropes, Danielle knew she was called to help small business owners after her processes recouped over 40 hours a month and over 400% revenue increase for her mother's small business.

Well-known for her flawless bookkeeping and financials so organized you'd think she was the Marie Kondo of entrepreneurial finance, Danielle is an in-demand speaker who has addressed a wide range of topics including how rest can increase your revenue, time management for small business owners, identifying income opportunities, how to amplify your income and how to build a virtual team.

In addition to her financial prowess, she's most proud of being an entrepreneur for over a decade, becoming a mother to her precious children (6 years old, 4 years old and 2 year old), and enjoying 8 years of marriage and joy with her college sweetheart.
